

For Immediate Release

Toronto Smartphone Film Festival TSFF Early Bird Submission Deadline: Feb 7 2021

(TORONTO – February 1, 2021) The Toronto Smartphone Film Festival (TSFF) is accepting early-bird submissions for its 9th festival, "TSFF 2021 Reimagined," until February 7, 2021.

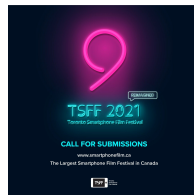

The deadlines and fees for submission guidelines are as follows:

- Early-Bird ($10): Sunday, February 7, 2021, at 11:59 p.m. EST
- Regular ($15): Sunday, March 14, 2021, at 11:59 p.m. EST
- Late ($20): Sunday, April 4, 2021, at 11:59 p.m. EST

Detailed Submission Guidelines are available on the TSFF website (<https://www.smartphonefilm.ca>) and the TSFF FilmFreeway page (<https://filmfreeway.com/torontosmartphonefilmfestival>).

In January, Global News Toronto featured TSFF's festival news. Mingu Kim, the Festival Director, excitedly commented regarding this inaugural coverage. "Despite the pandemic, it's great to see a lot of interest from the filmmakers' community as well as the local media partners. Recent coverage of TSFF done by Global News Toronto shows how our festival can be an exciting solution for independent filmmakers and content creators who wish to continue making films during lockdowns while physically distancing. We encourage people from all backgrounds to explore their creative sides and participate virtually in different film communities."

The TSFF coverage by Global News Toronto is available at <http://globalnews.ca/video/7580178/toronto-smartphone-film-festival-returning>.

For more information regarding festival updates, visit the TSFF website at <https://www.smartphonefilm.ca> or contact info@smartphonefilm.ca or (416) 840-7015.

~ 30 ~

For media related inquiries, please contact:
Angie (Min Ah) Park, Communications Specialist
angie@smartphonefilm.ca